Third-year students are hard at work on their thesis projects.

WAAST Welcomes BTh/Diploma Students

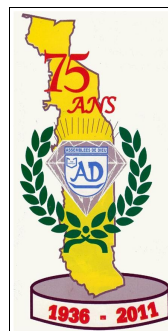

One hundred-twenty students from 12 countries are busy in the classrooms and library this semester. Ninety-two are working toward graduation in November. Third-year students have come from 5 extension centers: Burkina Faso (9), Cameroon (10), DR Congo (8 from DRC, 1 from Congo-Brazzaville), Ghana (11), and Sierra Leone (9). We thank God for their safe arrival, especially for those from Sierra Leone, who traveled for 5 days by road. Fifteen adjunct professors from 7 countries are teaching along with the resident faculty during the semester.

Alumni Follow “PATHS” to PhD

Seven WAAST graduates participated in the July session of Pan-Africa Theological Seminary (PATHS), hosted on the WAAST campus. Currently 25 alumni from 8 nations are pursuing their PhD through PATHS, the Assemblies of God's continent-wide doctoral seminary. Five of the first 6 graduates of PATHS are WAAST alumni. PATHS students and graduates serve as church leaders, Bible school teachers and directors, missionaries, and pastors. For information about PATHS, visit www.pathseminary.org.

Many WAAST alumni and students from Togo played key roles in the Togo AG's 75th anniversary celebration, held 10-14 August. Other alumni and students brought congratulations from their nations, including Burkina Faso, Benin, Chad, Côte d'Ivoire, Equatorial Guinea, Gabon, Ghana, Guinea-Conakry, Mali, Niger, Nigeria, and Senegal.

LMTV Features International Chapel, WAAST

A crew from “Lumière du Monde” TV, a Christian network based in Abidjan and broadcasting by satellite from Paris, recorded the 31 July and 7 August services at the Chapel and are preparing a feature story about WAAST. Director Dieudonné Gollet reports that LMTV will be on hand to cover WAAST's 40th-anniversary celebration and graduation service in November. The August chapel service and the WAAST feature will be broadcast at that time.

Special Project: Women's Dormitory Addition

We thank God for His provision and for the generosity of the various classes and alumni who have improved the campus with benches, shelters, tables, signs, and other gifts. As the school grows, so do the needs. One great need facing WAAST is for more housing for women. The Togo government is requiring this to retain accreditation, so plans are to add two stories to the women's dormitory, for a total of 14 rooms. A special offering for this project will be received at the anniversary celebration. We thank you for your help in meeting this need!

Lodging and Food

Lodging will not be available on the WAAST campus, so you are asked to make your own arrangements. Please note also that the only meal provided by WAAST will be the Friday-evening banquet.
