MA Sessions

Please Pray

- for the current session, especially for new students as they adjust and for the new adjunct professors. Pray for God's provision; some students lack funds.
- for the progress on the women's dorm, for safety for the workers, and for funds.
 - that God's Spirit would encourage those on the WAAST campus. A worker recently passed away. Missionary Vickie Alexander is battling an unknown infection. Pray for the Lord's strength and victory, that He may be glorified in all things.

WAAST Welcomes New Students, New Professors as Session Opens

WAAST Vice President Jean Bandé prays for the student body and professors at the orientation chapel.

The classrooms are once again filled with lively discussion as 69 students began the semester on Monday, 27 February. They come from 8 countries: Benin (8), Gabon (3), Ghana (21), Guinea-Conakry (1), Mali (1), Niger (4), Nigeria (4), and Togo (27). Of these, 27 are new students. Sixteen more students are expected later in the semester.

Update: Women's Dormitory

Work is progressing quickly on the addition of two stories (ten rooms) to the women's dorm. Below, workers pour the floor for the third story. Funds are needed to complete the third story, buy the roof, and do the finishing work.

Extension Center Sessions

Kinshasa, DRC: Eleven new students began their WAAST studies in Kinshasa in the January/February session. Pastor Douti Flindja traveled from the central campus to teach two courses. Alumni Michel Malonda and Cécile Bomboko (coordinator) also taught.

Ghana: A total of 61 students crowded the two classrooms at the center in Kumasi. Pastor Bernie Smith from the central campus and alumni Chris Dzoagbe, Louis Kyekyeku, and Phillip Arthur (coordinator) taught.

Sierra Leone: Six new students joined ten others for the January/February session. Courses were taught by alumni Timothy Kettor, Mazel Crowther, and Alfred Ensa (coordinator). Rev. Ensa asks for prayer as he presents radio programs around the country about the need for theological education, and for more students to come for the June session.
